

before and as a result the spare rooms are being furnished up and the hospitable "Welcome" sign brightened anew.

The California Pacific International Exposition is the primary cause, California is getting ready to stage its own world's fair and present indications promise that the "Century of Progress" of Chicago, will have but little on it in the way of real beauty and actual enjoyment.

Plans are being developed for a special occasion to be known as "Negro Day" August 24th, at which time 25,000 members of the race are expected to visit San Diego, and to participate in a celebration in which the art and achievements of the Negro race will be extolled before visitors from every section of America and many countries of the world. Details of the program have not been announced but a committee upon which are a number of prominent San Diegans, including D. V. Allan Audrey Hackshaw, E. W. Anderson and J. H. Brown are busy in preparation. Among the features already determined upon are music by massed choruses and bands, a gala banquet at a San Diego hotel and the coronation of a young woman elected queen of the festival.

The California Pacific International Exposition opens May 29. The grounds occupy 300 acres in beautiful Balboa Park, famous as one of the most beautiful parks in the world. In 1915 the Panama California Exposition was held in the same park. This year's event is expected to be epoch making in the extent and beauty of the attractions offered the public and every courtesy and consideration will be shown all visitors.
